

In May 1854, the Ontario Simcoe and Huron Railway arrived in Nottawasaga Station, which later became Stayner in 1864. Its arrival heralded the start of a major settlement boom.

On January 1st, 1855, the first train to steam into Stayner was the Lady Elgin, enroute from Toronto to Collingwood.

The station seen in the photo was constructed in 1904 by the Grand Trunk Railway, which had purchased the line in 1888.

For many years this building served as the Canadian National Railway station in Stayner. With the ending of the passenger service in 1960, and the infrequent use of the freight service, the station was eventually closed.

In 1986, the Stayner station was purchased by the Cranberry Village Resort, and moved to its current location. The building was restored and renovated to become the clubhouse for the new Cranberry Golf Resort, in time for its official opening.
